PRAYER

Reverend David Godleski, S.J., U.S. Jesuit Conference, Washington, D.C., offered the following prayer:

Gracious and life-giving God, we come before You this day in the midst of the holiday season, a time for joyful gatherings with friends, family members and other loved ones and a time for recalling the blessings we have received. We are mindful and grateful for the many gifts You have bestowed on us, both as individuals and as a Nation, especially the gift of freedom, the gift of our abundant natural resources and the gift of opportunities to pursue our hopes and aspirations.

We pray for Your continued blessings on our country and on those in positions of leadership and governance, especially in this House of Representatives. Bless all its Members with wisdom and understanding to discern how

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the concurrent resolution is concurred in.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, arguably, Mr. Speaker, this Congress is the least productive one in which I have served over the last 33 years. Both from a humanitarian standpoint and an economic one, this Congress has earned the disdain of the American people irrespective of their party affiliation.

I rise, Mr. Speaker, specifically to express my and the Democratic minority's strong objection to adjourning this first session of the 113th Congress without extending unemployment insurance eligibility for the 1.3 million Americans, including 20,000 military veterans, who will lose that support in just 48 hours. This number will increase by 73,000 people, on average, every week that we continue to block an extension.

That is both a moral outrage and another congressionally inflicted blow to our economy, and it is unprecedented. Whenever unemployment levels have been as they are today, the Congress has extended benefits.

It is, sadly, consistent with our failure to pass meaningful jobs legislation proposed by the President.

It is, sadly, consistent with our failure to pass comprehensive immigration reform, which is broadly supported by business, labor, farmers, farm workers, and an overwhelming number of religious leaders and members of the faith community.

It is, sadly, consistent with our failure to pass a farm bill, which could give confidence to those in dire need of help putting food on their families' tables that this Congress will not abandon them; and ironically, Mr. Speaker, we do so at the very time that our Nation celebrates a message of giving and hope.

All this we leave undone after passing a so-called budget "compromise," whose only virtue was that it was slightly better than the draconian and the irrational sequester—condemned on both sides of the aisle as unworkable, unrealistic, and ill-conceived. So, it is a so-called "compromise" that will be tested in just a few short weeks and which failed to assure that America will pay its bills in the months ahead.

Mr. Speaker, if I thought objecting to this motion to adjourn by unanimous consent would lead to an extension of unemployment for the 1.3 million Americans who have been unable to find work or to a House leadership bringing to the floor issues that I have listed, I would object to this House adjourning with so much of the people's work undone, but sadly, Mr. Speaker, such an objection would have no such effect. I and my party deeply regret that reality.

Mr. Speaker, we will return in January of 2014, urging our Republican colleagues to address the needs of so many millions of Americans who want us to do the work they sent us here to do.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, sadly, I withdraw my reservation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the concurrent resolution is concurred in.

There was no objection.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
